

AT Products LLC - Department of Beta Testing

DoBT Backup Application Form

Last Updated: 3/17/2024

Application Information

This is a backup DoBT form in case the applicant cannot take our online application at <https://beta-testing.atproducts.xyz/apply>. This form is taking DoBT v2.0 standards aligning with the online form and our guidelines. Any questions or concerns should be emailed to support@atproducts.xyz.

If you wish to put physical media and images on this form, it is allowed. Digital media such as videos, audio, or GIFs, must be emailed manually (as the online form refers all media to emailing manually).

If necessary, if you are a group, organization, or company beta testing our services. Each individual must apply individually and mention their group/organization/company in the application section.

If this is printed in a packet and it has a request to send back, only send the back page (application).

The following section is directly out of our online application:

We highly recommend that all applicants read our guidelines before submitting their application.

To apply as a beta tester, please fill out the form below and briefly describe why you want to join our beta testing team. Your insights and feedback are invaluable to us! Upon submission of your application, our team will review it and provide you with further instructions via email. Please note that beta testing with us is voluntary and unpaid unless otherwise specified.

We welcome you to AT Products LLC's Department of Beta Testing!

ATPLL-DoBT Application

Name

Email

Application

