

AT Products LLC / The Toucan Empire

Dear Reese D

On April 4th, 2024, I've taken the initiative and have unadded and blocked Reese D on every social media connection that we've had before, including her alternate accounts. This was after a similar line of "You ain't a part of this convo, be quiet." was said earlier that day.

There were multiple reasons behind this major blockage besides that line. Reese has done more mental harm than mental improvement; more harm than good. Our history has had:

- tons of arguments with her never apologized; usually it's only me that apologizes. Note that she is the only person who argues with me out of anyone.
- gaslighting me on 1/20/24 about Alyssa; never apologized once
- slander/defaced my name in front of Taya; never explaining it was not my choice/the full story
- not caring about conversations; a different tone is applied which sounds like she would like the conversation to end quickly

Basically, our friendship has hurt me a lot. I no longer wish to associate/contact Reese D until I deem she is a better person. I vow to the statement. I think this disconnection will be better for my mental health and my overall life.

Goodbye, Reese. I won't miss you and your arguments.

Alex Toucan,

Founder & CEO of AT Products LLC

Head Commander of The Toucan Empire